

Anti-Burn Ordinance Gets Village Board Okay

The Antioch Village Board Tuesday passed an ordinance making it unlawful to burn grass, weeds, rubbish, papers or other waste material without first obtaining a permit from the fire chief.

The ordinance was made necessary by the number of fires in the village and township last month that caused a total of $40,000 worth of damage.

There were 18 fires last month in the village and 66 in the township.

The ordinance calls for a penalty of up to $500 and makes the offense a misdemeanor. Each day of violation calls for a separate offense.

The permit can be obtained by written application stating the location of the fire, the size of the area to be burned if it is grass, and the number of persons in charge of the blaze to guard against it getting out of control.

The permit issued by the fire chief, upon the application of the resident, shall be good only for the day the permit is requested.

The ordinance also prohibits burning of leaves, grass or other combustible material in the streets.

The ordinance doesn't forbid, however, the burning of rubbish or trash on private property within the village in a suitable metal or wire burner or incinerator.

RADIOS WANTED

In other action the board approved the request of Civil Defense Director Ed Frazier to purchase three radio receivers at a cost of $431.

One receiver would be put in the Antioch Fire Department, one in the Antioch Answering Service and the third for use of the Civil Defense Director.

Frazier warned that the purchase was necessary because the tornado season is near and the receivers would be useful to receive warnings of such storms in time to take cover.

He also advised purchasing 3 civilian band units and a fourth receiver at a total cost of $368 but it was found there wasn't enough money in the civil defense fund to cover both purchases.

Mayor Raymond Toft suggested, however, that the three CB units, which would go into the village hall, a water department truck and a public works truck, might be purchased from the water and street funds.

Frazier reminded the board that half of the purchase price is returnable through matching funds and therefore the three units authorized would only cost $215.

The fourth receiver requested by Frazier would be put in the village hall.

The total cost of the four units not approved would have been $368 with half returnable through matching funds.

That request was turned over to the street and water committees for study.

BIDS WANTED

The board also approved advertising for bids for widening 400 feet of Lake Street. The bids will be advertised next week and May 7 was set as the time for opening bids.

Another motion to advertise for bids for insurance to cover the village during the next fiscal year was also approved and that date was also set for May 7 opening.

STREET WORK OKAYED

The board approved entering into a contract with Liberty Asphalt Co. to blacktop Vicaria Street from Lake Street to the dead end and Hardin Street from Victoria to Main Street at a cost of $6,354.

The proposal also included Ida Street but that portion was delayed until other work in the area is completed.

The board also moved to contact the state to determine to

The committee suggests that the various church schools may like to follow the bell-ringing service with historical materials of some of our outstanding leaders of our state, county or church.

Next Postmaster Might Be A Woman

The next postmaster of Antioch might very well be a postmistress. She is Mrs. Jane DeVore, of Deep Lake Road, Antioch Township, who finished first in a field of eight according to Civil Service examinations taken for the job.

Mrs. DeVore, a former Wave in the Navy during 1945 and 1946 was notified March 20 that she was number one.

The department usually furnishes three names to the postal department for consideration, but in this case only two have been submitted, it was reported.

They are Mrs. DeVore, a mother of two, and Bob Carter, a city carrier.

Although Carter finished third in a field of eight who took the examinations, Lee McKinney, a rural carrier who finished second was passed over because he is not a veteran.

Acting postmaster Joseph Wolf failed to pass the written examination and although he has said he would appeal for another examination, a letter from the civil service commission shows that he had not requested the new examination.

The letter was signed by Henry C. Robertson, postal examiner divisions.

Eight members of the department took the test and besides Wolf & Mrs. DeVore's husband, Howard, failed the written examination.

"Because of the fact that there is no Democratic senator from Illinois the administration acts on the matter and then submits its recommendation to the senate for approval.

Mrs. DeVore is a registered Democrat and, in all probability, would get the recommendation.

The other four besides DeVore and Wolf received notification a week ago Monday of their ratings.

Mrs. DeVore and Carter received notice a week ago Wednesday that their names had been passed onto the Postal Department for action.

Wolf, who is apparently out of the running despite the intervention of State Rep. John Matijevich, D-North Chicago, and Lake County Democratic Chairman Robert Haubrich, has been acting postmaster the past two years.

The other candidates who took the test included Chester Golonka, Howard Pannier and Miss Celia Hojem.

Revenue Problem

The Republican controlled State Legislature might have done the citizens of Illinois a favor without realizing it when they did not adjourn sine die following completion of legislative business last June 30.

They are now in the position of being able to bail the state out of its financial plight.

The crisis is caused by the latest opinion of the Illinois Supreme Court which invalidates the 1967 service tax amendments.

The decision lops some $70 million off the income of the state for the two-year period.

Democrats claim that the situation was brought about by the Republicans who put together the state's income producing package in the last stages of the regular legislative session.

The Republicans argue that the Democratic administration will just have to tighten its belt and do with what it has, even though many programs—needed programs—may go down.

Both sides might have good arguments but we are not concerned with that.

What we are concerned with is that the money is needed to operate the state—or the Republicans—wouldn't have included it in the first place—and where it comes from is the legislature's business.

Instead of knocking one another we feel the Republican leadership should call the legislature back into session to solve this vital problem.

Or, if they are stubborn, we would expect the Governor to call a special session for revenue purposes.

Certainly one side or the other should move on the matter.

We know that the legislature has scheduled a meeting for July. But July is a long way off.

Courthouse Notebook

By Lou Durkin

Presidential primaries in New Hampshire, Wisconsin, Oregon and California are stealing most of the political headlines these days, but there really is a primary campaign underway in Illinois.

The principal reason for the temporary lull in state campaigning is the Lenten season since the candidates don't want to be labor each other during the religious season.

However, immediately after Easter Sunday the candidates will roll up their sleeves and head into two rugged months of campaigning up and down the state.

Main interest will be centering on the Republican gubernatorial campaign where Richard Ogilvie, the Cook County Board President, is considered to be the front runner.

Many supporters of former Governor William G. Stratton, who have been somewhat concerned with the apparent lack of action in his bid for re-election to the post he filled for two terms, are anticipating a definite stepup in his activity.

The former governor has been using the time, since his candidacy announcement, in renewing old political ties and reminding former backers of past political favors.

Even though Stratton has been out of office for eight years and the years have taken a toll among his one-time stalwarts he still can depend on the active support of many politically powerful people in the state, both in and out of government.

It is unlikely he is too concerned about the endorsements of county central committee chairmen for his opponents, Ogilvie and Peoria industrialist John Henry Altorfer, because he has never been a GOP favorite son, except when he was in office and running for his second term as governor.

If Stratton is really serious about his candidacy now is the time for him to show it and he can be expected to come out swinging when the campaign moves into full motion.

Despite efforts of both candidates for the Chairmanship of the Lake County Board of Supervisors to bring their campaigns to the people, even though the issue is settled among the supervisors, few people are aware of the battle or care about it. Leading candidates for the post are Warren Township Supervisor Robert Depke and Avon Township Supervisor Norman Geary.

Depke, who has been groomed for the post carefully by Board Powers Joseph Welch of Cuba, and Libertyville's Guy L. Grinnell, is considered a sure fire bet to succeed Antioch's Lloyd (Red) Murrie.

For the first time in several years the county board fight is not being fought along regional grounds since both candidates are from non-shore line townships.

Surprising, too, is the comparative youth of the two candidates since neither has been on the board 10 years and it usually takes much longer for a new board member to climb the eminence among the supervisors.

If there are to be any election fireworks in Lake County this spring they will probably be found in the numerous school board elections to be contested in various parts of the county.

Rising school costs, dissatisfaction with curriculum in some areas, and the numerous referendum failures, the past several years are factors creating a heated atmosphere for the school elections.

Ideally schools should be apart from politics, but rough and tumble politics could well be the deciding factor in this year's school balloting.

Anyone interested in helping to conquer cancer by giving even a few hours of time is requested to call Mrs. Brook at 395-1166.

Alexander Tytler wrote almost 200 years ago that "democracy" could not exist as a permanent form of government; since once the electorate discovered they could elect those who promised the most benefits from the public treasury, the government would collapse from a loose fiscal policy and a dictatorship would follow.

The United States constitution formed a "republican" government and wisely left the establishment of election laws and the qualification of voters to the several states; but Federal officials, aided by the Courts, have negated this safeguard, by Federal act and Court decree, and now we have what is commonly called the "one man-one vote" policy.

Government in a civilized country requires responsible electors. The Rhodesian constitution makes provision for a degree of responsible voting. The ruling Rhodesians could continue to assist the African to develop according to his ability and attributes. Rhodesia could provide something unique in the history of representative government.

The International revolutionaries fear such a development. It would destroy the very foundations of their global strategy of using the primitive peoples of the world to destroy the hated imperalist of the free world.

Bob Holstrom Is Danang Area PX Supervisor

M/S E-7 Robert B. Holstrom

SAIGON — Army Master Sergeant E-7 Robert B. Holstrom, from Antioch, Illinois, has recently transferred to the Vietnam Regional Exchange, to take on the duties of PX supervisor for the Danang Area Exchange.

The Danang Area Exchange, located in the northern sector of South Vietnam, is one of six main exchange areas throughout Vietnam which fall under the control of the Vietnam Regional Exchange with headquarters located in Saigon. As Supervisor for the Danang Area Exchange, Sergeant Holstrom will assist the exchange officer with the administration and supervision of the store plus provide advice on customer needs, evaluation of services and support facilities. Along with his regular duties, he will probably be called on to familiarize local Vietnamese Nationals with PX operations, procedures and policies.

Entering the Army in November of 1942, Sergeant Holstrom served with the 63rd Armored Infantry, 11th Armored Division, during World War II. During the Korean conflict he was with the 279th Regiment 45th Infantry Division. Then upon arrival in Vietnam in August 1967, Sergeant Holstrom served with the 1/22nd Infantry, 4th Infantry Division, located in the Central Highlands near Pleiku.

A member of the Loyal Order of Moose Lodge No. 876, Sergeant Holstrom was employed by Borgardt Construction Co., in Antioch, Illinois before entering the service.

His wife, Margaret, is residing at 13401 Andrews Drive, Seal Beach, Calif., while his daughter, Patricia, now Mrs. Patricia McIntosh is living at 328 Division St., Bellevue, Ky., with the Sergeant's two grandchildren, Debra, age three, and Patsy, age three months.

Co. Bldg. To Feature Displays April 4-10

The various departments in the County Building will have educational displays in the Main Lobby so that you may see the present and future plans for Lake County. Come to your County Building April 4th through 10th between the hours of 9:00 a.m. and 5:00 p.m.

A series of 12 historical paintings commissioned by Illinois Bell Telephone in honor of Illinois Sesquicentennial celebration will be on display at the Lake County Administration Building in Waukegan, Thursday, April 4, through Wednesday, April 10, according to Kenneth A. Henke, chairman of the Lake County Sesquicentennial Committee which is sponsoring the display.

The paintings, produced by nationally-known historical illustrator, Robert Thom, have been produced in close cooperation with the Sesquicentennial Commission. Selection of the 12 noteworthy events illustrated in the paintings was made by the Historical Advisory Committee of the Commission. Following their selection, historical research for each illustration was conducted in depth by Dr. Robert M. Sutton, Professor of History at the University of Illinois and Director of the Illinois State Historical Society.

The two events portrayed in the paintings include: Joliet and Marquette visiting Illinois, 1673; the British occupying Fort Chartres, 1765; George Rogers Clark raiding Fort Sackville, 1779; Building the first Fort Dearborn, 1803; Inauguration of Shadrach Bond as first Governor of Illinois, 1818; John Deere manufacturing the first steel plow, 1843; Building the Illinois Central Railroad, 1856; Last of the Lincoln-Douglas Debates, 1858; Repeal of the Illinois "Black Laws", 1855; W.L.B. Jenney building the first steel skeleton skyscraper, 1884; an Addams founding Hull House, 1889; and the first demonstration of nuclear fission at the University of Chicago, 1942.

An example of the accuracy of historical details shown in the paintings was the "magnifying glass test" given to the completed Joliet-Marquette painting by a historian. He examined the painting of the explorers' 1673 meeting with the Illinois Indians closely to make sure that corn cobs pictured on the ground showed only 8 to 10 rows of kernels on each cob. It was explained to artist Thom that corn raised by Indians in those days was not as hybrid as today's corn, which can have up to 16 rows per ear. The painting passed the "test" with a count of 8 or 10 rows per ear.

Color reproductions (16" x 20") of the painting suitable for framing are being made available by the University of Illinois Press. Dr. Robert Sutton has prepared explanatory essays based on the historical research he conducted for each painting. A set containing the first four 2,500-word essays and the first four paintings may be obtained by sending a check (payable to the University of Illinois Press) for $2.75 to Box T, Historical Paintings, University of Illinois Press, Urbana, Ill. 61801.

Two similar sets of four paintings and explanatory booklets will be made available later in the year by the University of Illinois Press.

Several will give testimonies as to why they are going into the Lord's service as missionaries. Several have grown up on the field with their parents who are missionaries.

The leader of the choir is Don Rasmussen who spent part of his childhood in Brazil and Paraguay with his parents. There will be opportunity to talk to the young people individually during the refreshment period which will follow the singings.

Family Camping Show Scheduled For May 17-19

A Lake County Family Camping Show is being planned for the weekend of May 17-19 at the Lake County Fairgrounds on Rte. 45 one-half mile north of Rte. 120, Grayslake.

The show will be sponsored by the University of Illinois Cooperative Extension Service in Lake County and interested county campers.

Ray T. Nicholas, Extension Adviser, said that the camping show is being planned for this spring because of the recent trend toward camping as a hobby and family activity.

More people would be campers," said Nicholas. "If they knew what type of equipment is on the market and if they knew how to use the camping equipment."

"The show will also be of interest to the experienced camper," he said, "because camping families will have a chance to talk with other experienced campers, learn more about camping, and also see the latest in camping equipment."

One of the main features of the three-day show will be the 40 families camping for the weekend on the show grounds. These families are now being invited to camp on the grounds to show experienced campers and would-be campers how they use their camping equipment.

These families who will have a wide variety of camping trailers and equipment will answer questions and discuss their camping units with visitors to the show. The show will start at 7 p.m. on Friday, May 17, and continue until Sunday afternoon, May 19.

Along with the camping families there will also be displays of new camping equipment, boats, and sporting goods.

Special programs and demonstrations are being planned for the two evenings during the show, and refreshments will be served on the grounds throughout the weekend.

The camping show is being planned as a family event. Nicholas said that there will be no admission charge so all the members of the family can attend. He said the only charge will be 50 cents for parking the car on the grounds.

This is the first camping show sponsored by the Lake County Extension Service. Nicholas said that because of the interest in camping the show should attract several thousand people, both prospective and experienced campers.

Avery A. Vose, nationally prominent dairy farmer from Rt. 2, Antioch, has been re-elected president of Pure Milk Association at the annual reorganization meeting of the PMA board of directors. Vose is now starting his tenth successive year in that office.

John E. Butterbrodt, Rt. 1, Burnett, Wis., was elected first vice-president. Albert Krusemark, Frankfort, Ill., was elected second vice-president. Harold L. Smith, Rt. 1, Akron, Ind., was re-elected third vice-president.

Over 1,400 people attended the annual meeting of the Pure Milk Association at the Conrad Hilton Hotel.

Vose said Central Milk Sales Agency is meeting new challenges to fluid milk sales with an advertising program for the Chicago metropolitan area.

CMSA voted to provide two cents per cwt. out of the Chicago market pool to finance this expanded advertising program. Vose pointed out. The program is administered by the Board of Directors of the Milk Foundation and is using the American Dairy Association's stepped-up advertising and promotion project.

The budget established for this program is at an annual rate of approximately $1 million. This project and others like it in various markets is in addition to the ADA's regular advertising program. Associated Dairy men members are pledged to similar proj-

Chicago, Ill.—If several persons contribute more than half the support of an individual during the tax list, one of them may be able to claim the $500 exemption on his income tax return, said E. C. Coyle, Jr., District Director of Internal Revenue Service for the Chicago District.

Remember when a call to California was a 10 dollar holler?

We do. We also remember when bread was 7¢ a loaf, sirloin sold for 38¢ a pound, and it cost $4.65 for a three minute station-to-station yelling match between Chicago and New York. But that was back in the "good old days" of the twenties. Since then, just about everything has gone up, while the cost of Long Distance has steadily gone down. A call to San Francisco that cost $11.90 in the twenties, costs $1.60, plus tax, today (and if you dial direct after Midnight, you pay just 65¢, plus tax).

And as we lowered our prices, Illinois Bell customers have been able to lower their voices.

At Illinois Bell, we're always working to make your telephone a bigger bargain than ever—not just in Long Distance, but in your basic telephone service as well. An old-fashioned idea? Maybe. But it has helped Illinois Bell provide you with phone service that's as modern as tomorrow, at a cost that's years behind the times.

Remarks: Another month has slipped by and April is here. But let's see how close March came to the means for the month.

First, let's get the difference between average, mean and normal as used in Climatology, explained. Average is an average of data for a short period of time, day, month or year. Mean is an average of averages over a period of years. Means for the 30 year period 1931-60 are used by the Weather Bureau as Normals. The Antioch station was closed between Sept., 1922 and March, 1941, so the

THURSDAY, APRIL 4, 1968 THE ANTIOCH NEWS 5

Bureau has not been able to establish normals for us.

Mean precipitation for March is 2.45". We had .32". Mean snow fall is 6.3" (this is for a period of 19 years up to 1960), we had .80". The past 10 year average was 8.6" of snow, so we got off real easy.

Mean temperature average is 32.2° F. (average of the highs and lows for the month), we had 39.3° F. Mean daily maximum temp. is 43.2° F., we had 52.3° F. The highest was 75° on the 28th. The mean daily minimum is 25.0° F., we had 26° F. And the lowest was 10° F. on the 3rd. The highest temp. on record for March in Antioch was 80° F. on 3-27-45, and the lowest was -15° F. on 3-1-62.

So, we came into April high on the temp. end (Hope we stay there) and low on the precipitation (Here we need some help.)

Four-Way Battle Looms For Speedway Car Crown

When the modified stock cars kick-off their Sunday night series of races at the Waukegan Speedway April 21 at 8 p.m., there will be more serious title contenders in competition than ever before.

The closest four-way battle in the track's 20 year history was fought out over 18 nights in 1967 for the number one spot.

Pre-season indicators point to an even more hectic contest in 1968.

The winter season enthusiasm among the owners and drivers of the modified stock cars has reached an all-time high in the Lake County area.

Over 30 modifieds are expected to enter the opening night's race program with the entry list for the entire season swelled to the largest number in recent years.

More modifieds than ever before will be using fuel injection instead of multiple carburetor setups this year. Racing alcohol will be used predominately as the racing fuel.

The engines and chassis of almost all of the modifieds have been reworked on the older cars, plus many new cars have been built from the ground up.

Defending his newly acquired title of Waukegan Speedway Champion will be Whitey Harris of Lake Villa. Harris won 18 races, including five features, to add the Waukegan title to his impressive list of triumphs.

Trying to unseat Harris will be Billy "The Bullet" Bohn of Kenosha. Bohn lost the title by a mere two championship points in the final race last season and he is determined not to let that happen again. The "Bullet" set more fast qualifying laps (six) than any other modified pilot at Waukegan last year.

Roger Von Otto closed the 1967 season by winning three of the final four main event sand wound up third in points. Von Otto seems to have found the winning formula in his Pontiac-powered racer that carried Johnny Reimer to three previous Waukegan titles. Reimer of Caledonia, Wis., will be making a real bid to recover the driving crown after finishing fourth in 1967. Reimer will be wheeling an all new modified in his quest.

Among the seasoned veterans who will be giving these top four a real run for their money this year will be Gino Wagner of Cudahy, Wis., in a reworked year-old modified.

Claude Potter of Genoa City, Wis., has purchased a new car and had much success with it in the closing two weeks of last year's season.

Jim Bozeman of Waukegan will have a completely reworked chassis under his No. 73 and Homer Ansell of Milwaukee will handle a different car with a new engine.

Veteran Junior Dodd of Waukegan will field a new car as will Jim "Psychedelic Sully" Sullivan of Antioch.

Four of the newer drivers on the circuit have prepared completely different cars for opening night: Al Horton of Antioch; Ken Monroe of Pell Lake, Wis.; Roger Iles of Waukegan, and Tom Anderson of Chicago.

Late model stock car racing will officially start the season with the inaugural races on Saturday night, April 20, and then the modified stock cars will roar into action the next night.

Time trials are 7 p.m. and the first race goes to the line promptly at 8 p.m.

Hobby stock bonus races will complement both of the back-to-back racing spectacles.

Coho Salmon Madness Hits Illinois

A malady new to Illinois but common in the State of Michigan has stricken many anglers living in the state, the Illinois Department of Conservation points out.

The ailment is known as coho madness.

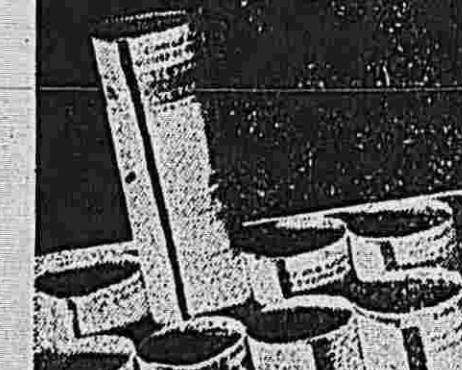

It is caused by the thought of tangling with coho salmon in the waters of southern Lake Michigan where the fish gather in the spring to feed on the alewife.

The malady leads sane people to do irrational acts, such as venturing out on Lake Michigan in craft that would not be safe on a farm pond.

"No one should try to reach the offshore shoal areas, where the salmon congregate, in less than a 16-foot boat," William T. Lodge, department director said.

"This would be the minimum length. An 18- or 20-foot boat would be much better. Have plenty of freeboard and a transom at least 20 inches high."

Where The Boys Are

SAN DIEGO, March 18—Marine Private Charles E. Mason, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald E. Mason of 1500 Dering Lane, Lake Villa, Ill., was graduated from eight weeks of recruit training at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot here.

He will now undergo from two to four weeks of individual combat training and then, after leave at home, will report to his first Marine Corps assignment.

The intensified Marine recruit training emphasizes rigid physical conditioning and survival techniques, both at sea and ashore, to develop self-confidence and endurance. Marksmanship with the M-14 caliber pistol are equally stressed, and close order drill instills the traditions of Marine Corps teamwork.

A thorough study of basic military subjects, hygiene, first aid and sanitation, and the customs, courtesies, history and mission of the Marine Corps serve to polish the new Marine's recruit education and prepare him to join the Marine combat forces.

The 1,400-mile-an-hour F-106's were sent from McChord AFB, Wash., to Osan Air Base as part of the buildup of U. S. forces in Korea triggered by the North Korean crisis.

The ADC all-weather interceptors used their newly-inaugurated technique of inflight refueling and were supported by Strategic Air Command KC-135 Stratotankers for the long overwater flight. The supersonic fighters arrived at their destination combat ready and were immediately placed on alert to defend other forces in the area.

The Delta Dart crews are assigned to the 318th Fighter Interceptor Squadron at McChord. The squadron has been selected as the most outstanding unit of its kind in ADC's Fourth Air Force. It attained the honor through recent high ratings in combat readiness and intercept inflight refueling proficiency.

Illinois Bell Sets New Rate Schedule

The Illinois Commerce Commission has announced that Illinois Bell, following discussion with the commission, has filled changes in long distance rates for calls within the state, to be effective April 14.

The new rates would make charges for calls within Illinois comparable to those put in effect on November 1 for calls between states. While both decreases and increases are involved, the net is annual savings to Illinois customers of about $450,000.

The new intrastate schedules include the longer bargain calling periods now in effect for interstate calling. Lower charges will be in effect during 70 per cent of the week. "After-Midnight" (midnight to 7 a.m.) will be introduced. With it, the maximum rate for a three-minute, customer-dialed, station-to-station call to any point in Illinois during these hours will be 40 cents rather than 50 cents.

Other changes in the Illinois schedule: On holidays, the lower night rates will apply rather than evening rates. The holidays, July 4 and Labor Day, also are added to Thanksgiving, Christmas and New Year's Day.

Saturday is added to Sunday as a 24-hour period during which lower night rates will apply.

Evening rates for station-to-station calls will be in effect from 5 p.m. to 7 p.m., Monday through Friday, rather than from 6 p.m. to 8 p.m.

Night rates for station-to-station calls will be in effect from 7 p.m. to 7 a.m., rather than from 8 p.m. to 4:30 a.m.

The new night rate period for person-to-person calls, Monday through Friday, will be from 5 p.m. to 7 a.m. rather than from 6 p.m. to 4:30 a.m.

Additional customer savings will be in effect through these changes:

Evening rates for three-minute, station-to-station calls of 56 to 124 miles will be cut. The 45-cent rate will be reduced to 40 cents and the 50-cent rate will be cut to 45 cents.

Flat rate calling areas for Metropolitan Service customers in 15 exchanges (within the Chicago suburban area) will be enlarged to include all exchanges within a distance of four miles.

The company said that some rates for "short-haul" long distance calls of one to 25 miles would be increased. No increase in the initial period charges exceeds five cents. There are some changes from four to three minutes in initial calling periods, and some reductions from two minutes to one minute in overtime periods. The adjustments, a spokesman said, reflect the large expense involved in providing this service.

Other increases include establishment of a "25-cent minimum" for "short-haul" long distance calls which require operator handling and special billing. Examples are credit card and "third-number" calls. Some adjustment also will be made in message unit charges to Outer Metropolitan Service customers.
